To whom it may concern

It gives me pleasure to confirm that Amanda Blankfield (ID 8302050056086) has been working for Afrika Tikkun for over four years (since 2 July 2007) in the capacity of Marketing Manager. This position involves working closely with funders, marketing, PR and advertising companies and the general managers, staff and beneficiaries at Afrika Tikkun's community centres based in six South African townships and informal settlements.

Afrika Tikkun is an NGO that provides education, health and social services to children, youth and their families through centres of excellence in South African Townships. The aim is to empower communities to develop new generations of productive citizens.

Amanda created and ran the Youth Citizens Action Programme, which gives grade 10 learners at disadvantaged schools project management tools to help them improve social ills in their schools and communities. The programme was run in all nine of the provinces of South Africa in 2011. Amanda has found that her passion lies in development work and would like to further her studies in the development field.

We wish her every success in her studies.

Yours faithfully

Herby A Rosenberg
